POWDER COATING

Powder coating produces a high specification coating which is relatively hard, abrasion resistance and a beautiful gloss finish that is very resistant to chemicals and chipping.

The part to be treated is earthed and sprayed using powdered paint that is electro statically charged and then baked in an oven which gives a solid, tough coating.

At Walls Engineering, we have a wide range of RAL colours to choose from. All materials we powder coat are shot blasted beforehand to provide a perfect surface for powder coating.
